California Ranch News

Manager Arthur Long of the Globe Gin at McFarland, Kern county, reports that about 90 per cent of the available cotton is now ginned. This gin has turned out 1,852 bales this season, with 940 bales still in the storage yard.

Plans of Miller & Lux, Inc., to place more than 100,000 additional acres of their holdings in Fresno and Madera counties under irrigation, were disclosed at Sacramento last week when three applications for water from the San Joaquin river were filed with the state division of water rights.

A total of 160,000 acres in California were planted for rice in 1927 and the estimated production as compiled by the California Crop Reporting Service of the state department of agriculture is 8,960,000 bushels. This is nearly 1,000,000 bushels more than the production in 1926, which was figured at 7,936,000 bushels from 149,000 acres.

Approximately 7,000 stands of bees are maintained for production of honey in Kern county at this time, according to a partial survey completed by Paul Higley, deputy horticultural commissioner of Kern county. Higley is president of a newly formed bee keepers' association dedicated to advancement of the honey industry in Kern county.

Ninety-eight per cent of the rice planted last year in the Glenn-Colusa irrigation district was harvested. This is according to figures compiled by officials of the district. This record is held to be considerably better than that of other rice-growing districts of the state.

The walnut industry of the state experienced an extremely successful season in spite of the heaviest crop on record, placed at around 786,000 100-pound bags of merchantable unshelled walnuts. The marketing season has been extremely successful in spite of the heavy crop, and close to 90 per cent of the crop in the association, which controls 85 per cent, has been sold, with some grades now entirely disposed of.

Pomegranate growers of Tulare county have just been apprised of the fact that they are to receive 2 cents per pound net or $40 a ton for the fruit produced during the recent season. The crop throughout Tulare county, where a large percentage of the state's pomegranates are produced, was noticeably short and presumably this had much to do with the high average price obtained. Some growers, not connected with exchanges, will receive slightly lower prices. Only thirteen cars were shipped by one plant in the Terra Bella district as compared to twenty-five cars sent out last year. All of Tulare county had an output of only seventy cars this season.

"California agriculture faces the most serious dislocation visited upon it in years if the measures designed to limit the immigration of Mexican labor, which are now before Congress, should become law. The resultant confusion following upon the sudden shutting off of the state's last supply of itinerant farm labor would be felt not only in the agricultural field but through all industry." This was the opinion of Robert Welles Ritchie, assistant agricultural director of the California Development Association, who was in Sacramento last week to make important contracts in the campaign the association is waging to urge upon Congress the necessity of a thorough investigation of all angles of the Mexican immigration problem before taking action thought to be a menace to Califorina's interests.

The pleasing story of the California citrus industry, which received an f. o. b. return of $120,000,000 for its crop, has been widely told. However, it will bear emphasizing. This income was the highest yet on record by $22,000,000, and was secured in spite of the fact that the crop was the largest in history, with over 70,000 cars being moved. Several important new developments were noted. Perhaps the most interesting was the great increase in exports, which ran close to 750,000 boxes.

Golden State
News of Interest to All

Elwood A. Stevenson, former school official of New York, Kansas and Minnesota, was last week appointed president of the California State School for the Deaf at Berkeley and chief of the State Bureau for Education of the Deaf.

Revocation of the licenses of sixty-three California motorists for various violations of the motor vehicle laws, especially drunken driving, was announced last week by Frank G. Snook, chief of the State Division of Motor Vehicles.

Merritt Coates of San Francisco was a few days ago appointed actuary of the State Pension Commission, which is studying feasibility of establishing a pension system for state employees. W. A. Johnstone, head of the State Civil Service Commission, announced the appointment and said that Professor A. H. Mowbray of the University of California will assist the commission as consulting actuary.

Do your brakes hold? Better check on them or the traffic officer will. Following a resolution recently passed by the California Public Safety Conference, Frank G. Snook, chief of the Division of Motor Vehicles, announced a rigid brake inspection for the coming month throughout the state. Motorists who fail to observe the requirements of the law regarding brakes will be subject to arrest, the chief states.

California grown Italian Cypress trees propagated from seed gathered in the Garden of Gethsemane, which were distributed last year by M. B. Pratt, state forester, created such an unusual demand that the supply was virtually exhausted, but nevertheless two will go forward within a few days with Lemmon, South Dakota, as their destination.

The oil industry of California was urged last week to cease drilling more wells along the beaches of the state until a satisfactory plan of protection to the beaches can be worked. In a formal statement, Governor C. C. Young pointed out that California's beaches, one of the greatest single scenic attractions of the state, are now in jeopardy because of the continual drilling for oil on the tidelands.

California will add a $200,000 Kellogg cereal factory to its industries during 1928. "The site for the factory has not been selected," W. K. Kellogg, president of the Kellogg Cereal Company, announced at San Francisco when he arrived on the President Wilson on a round-the world tour. "The machinery, however, has been ordered, and plans have been completed to devote this plant to manufacture of an entirely new product."

A state-wide campaign to arrange financial co-operative agreements with county governments in the protection of forest lands from fire is to be launched this week by the Division of Forestry, State Department of Natural Resources. The campaign will begin at Redding, where State Forester M. B. Pratt is to appear before the Shasta County Board of Supervisors.

Oil field operations reported to State Oil and Gas Supervisor R. D. Bush during the week ended December 31, 1927, show twenty-four new wells started, compared with twenty-six during the previous week. Of the twenty-four notices to drill filed, eleven were for wells in Long Beach; one in Huntington Beach, one in San Bernardino county, six in Ventura county, one in Cat Canyon, three in Kern county, and one in Sonoma county. The total new wells for 1927 are 1,263.

A new venture in California's adult education program was announced by the state department of education with the opening in Tulare County last week of the first of a series of "week-end schools." The Tulare classes are to be held each Friday night this month and next and will afford residents an opportunity to discuss problems of government with state officials. These problems will have to do with finances, education, industrial relations and development, social welfare, parent education and water rights.

With the passing of 1927 as far as state business was concerned, California saw the end of the best year for new business enterprises that it has witnessed since 1924. Statistics compiled at the office of Frank C. Jordan, secretary of state, show that during 1927 there were incorporation papers filed by 5,030 corporations, on which the state collected $404,961 in filing fees. These compared with 4,763 incorporation papers filed in 1926 on which $388,960 was collected. The 1924 document total was 5,070 and that of 1925 was 4,863.

DR. MC QUARRIE TALKS EDUCATION

Dr. McQuarrie of the State Teachers College of San Jose, spoke before the grange Tuesday evening on practical education, Just what constitutes a practical education is somewhat of a puzzle to a great many people. When any thing contributes to man's welfare that seems practical, especially when it helps one to get a living. Our primary grades in school are evidently of a very practical nature. But the teaching in our higher schools and colleges is often questioned as to its practical usefulness. True, so long as the public , or shall we say the school system, demands that certain things shall be taught, those who teach them are well paid, and it probably seems practical to them, or at least some of them.

But of what real use is a thing we can only use to teach some one else? The system seems to have grown up in very early times when only the wealthy were educated. The system has very little in it that is of any practical use to a working man, except possibly as a sort of polish which he may put on if he chooses, after he has earned a competence.

If I wish to be an electrician, the best thing I can do it to learn to be an electrician, and not spend some of the best years of my life trying to learn what I don't want and have no taste for. The same thing is true of carpentry, of printing, in fact, of about everything except teaching. If I wish to teach then I must learn to do what the school system demands. This is not a complaint against the teachers, they are forced to do as they do by the system, or quit teaching.

Dr. McQuarrie gave many fine illustrations of how our higher education was often a misfit and held out some hope that we were at the doorway of a better and more practical type of schooling. A large audience was present and seemed well pleased with his talk.

It was announced that the Boy Scouts and the Campfire Girls would give a grand entertainment at the grammar school auditorium Saturday evening next. And February 11 will be the next grange card party at the library.

Miss Anna Shult recited two humorous pices in her most pleasing manner and Mrs. Neil Schellback rendered two pieces on the piano, all of which were well received.

A committee was appointed to try and induce the Southern Pacific Railroad to put their main line through Campbell as they don't seem to want it anywhere in San Jose.

SECURE AUTO LICENSE PLATES

100 Per Cent Penalty Will be Added to Motor Registrations After That Time, Says State Department.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 11, 1928.—(Special).—Bulletins instructing all branch offices of the division of motor vehicles that no extension of time will be granted any California motorist who fails to make application for his 1928 license plates before January 31, were issued here today by Frank G. Snook, chief of the division.

No person, no matter what his excuse, will be permitted to avoid payment of 100 per cent penalty, if his application is not placed in the mails before mid night of that date, the bulletin said.

"Grant no extensions to anyone," the bulletin said. "There will be absolutely no reason for any person being delinquent with his application."

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Dunlap are having a garage house erected on their Alice avenue lot where they will live until such time as they complete a home on the same property.

TRIPLE ALLIANCE BENEFIT PROGRAM AT CAMPBELL HALL

SATURDAY, JANUARY 14. AT 8:00 P. M.

One of the biggest shows ever staged in Campbell will be given at the grammar school auditorium next Saturday night. There will be a complete operetta, "The Feast of the Red Corn," by the Campfire Girls, under the direction of Marion Jenkins and Kittie Johnson. Half a dozen different lodges are combining to furnish the personel for this musical play with a cast of more than 20 girls.

The stage setting will be one of the most beautiful ever seen in the auditorium, with a drop painted by F. H. Cutting and border by the art department of the high school.

The Operetta is an artistic production, spectacularly beautiful in its rhythmic choruses. "The feast of the Red Corn, however, has dramatic power as well as beauty, and there will be thrills and surprises along with the melody.

AN ELABORATE FOUR-SCENE PLAY

Beside the operetta, a complete one-hour play will be presented by a mixed cast of Boy Scouts and Campfire Girls. The "Midnight Tryst" is written and directed by T. A. Cutting of the high school, who has always made a hobby of writing things. The drama has a well woven plot with a good climax, and the cast has put in several weeks of careful preparation.

Special scenery with a very spooky atmosphere has been painted by Williard Laughlin, budding artist and cartoonist, who has just signed up with an Eastern magazine for a series of cartoons. The high school shop has contributed some novel furniture for the midnight scene.

HIGH SCHOOL BAND

An overture will be given by the High School Band under the direction of A. A. Thielke. The band, along with the Campfire Girls and Scouts, are to be one of the beneficiary organizations sharing in the profits of the entertainment. They are endeavoring to raise money for uniforms. Equipped in this manner Campbell district will have one of the best bands in the whole county. The quality of music they are producing is truly surprising considering the fact that they have been organized for less than two years.

WORTHY BENEFIT

H. C. Smith some months ago purchased athletic equipment, mats, horses, bars, etc., having a value of fully $1000. He is offering this outfit to local organizations for $400, and the scouts are eager to get their share. Considerable money has been donated, but the scouts are an independent set and do not care to have everything handed out to them on silver platters. They desire to help purchase the equipment and are giving their part of the entertainment with this in view.

The Campfire Girls need money for rent, equipment and current expenses. Without doubt a big value entertainment will be given by the combined organizations, and there is the additional satisfaction of knowing that every cent will go for a worthy cause.

Tickets may be secured from any Boy Scout or Campfire Girl or at the drug store. General admission is 35c. General admission tickets may be exchanged for tickets in the reserved section for 15c additional at the drug store.

SCOUT STUNTS

For full measure, Scout stunts are to be given; songs by the boy Scouts, and songs and a salute by Scouts, Rev. J. H. Bennett, scoutmaster; tumbling by the Lone Scouts; signalling by the Sea the Cub Scouts.

KIWANIS CREED BY HUGH HAMILTON

The Tuesday Kiwanis luncheon was called together by the new president, Walt Merrill, who appointed Harold Cramer chairman of a special committee to provide a program for the evening of February 22, to raise funds for the Chamber of Commerce.

Frank Cutting received the gavel and proved an efficient chairman. He read a story of complaint that involved nearly every member of the club. Fred Clancy's new Ford cost him a dime; but it was such a beauty that no one pitied him. Posters advertising the Scout Campfire benefit program next Saturday night were distributed to the members.

Rev. H. J. Hamilton of the Los Gatos M. E. Church gave the address of the day, choosing as his subject, "The Kiwanis Creed." Every worth while movement has its creed, he said, and every age has a right to make its own.

Kiwanis first of all recognizes th eprimacy of the spiritual in human affairs over the material. It might seem surprising that practical business men should adopt such a creed, but Kiwanians do adopt and endeavor to practice it.

Secondly, Kiwanis adopts the golden rule in business. Business no longer believes in cutting in two a bolt of cloth and offering the two ends at different prices with pretense of difference in quality. Most dealers sell their cars upon their merits by not knocking the cars of other dealers. The speaker believed that the standard of honesty of present day corporations was high.

Thirdly, Kiwanis believes in promoting good citizenship, especially by urging the use of the franchise.

The fourth plank in the Kiwanis creed is the formation of enduring friendships. Every man needs friends—some one to call him by his first name. Especially valuable are the friendships which a Kiwanian makes with men from other walks of life from his own, for Kiwanis is a cross section of society representative of all the different professions and occupations.

There are numerous critics of Kiwanis who claim the members are not living up to their creed, and while there is some truth in the criticism, yet Kiwanis means a striving for better things and an education better to enable men to reach higher standards. Kiwanians are happier for going down the road together to their tasks.

145S DEFEAT PREPS

Last Saturday night, January 7, the first Campbell Alumni 145's defeated the Santa Clara preps at the Campbell High School gymnasium by a close score of 25 to 23.

The game was marked by fast passwork and good guarding on both sides. Frank Blaine, star center on the red and white Alumni team, was high point man of the game with 7 digits to his credit. Cyclone Murphy and Specs Clark trailed him with 5 points a piece. Practically all the squad got a chance to show their stuff Saturday night and all of them that played, showed that the graduates have not forgotten what they knew about basketball while attending Campbel High School.

The Campbell Alumni unlimited will start up this week and will travel with the Alumni 145's to Watsonville to play games with two teams representing the "Apple City," this Saturday night, January 14.

The players on the Campbell Alumni unlimited team are:

M. Nelson, W. Eddlemon, O. Kalas, J. Monte, forwards; C. Wilson and W. Robinson, centers; R. Steindorf, B. Reed and H. Cramer, guards.

CLUB ENJOYS SOCIAL AFTERNOON AT HALL

The Country Woman's Club met Monday for a business and social session, which proved very enjoyable.

The hall was beautifully decorated with winter berries and bowls of narcissus and iris.

At the business session plans were made for a card party to be held the afternoon of Friday, Feb. 10. Mrs. L. J. Carboni is chairman for the occasion.

Steps were instituted toward another more pretentious social afternoon to be held in March which will be for the public and will be a benefit as well.

Mrs. L. T. Lenox was in charge of the social hour and she announced Mrs. L. F. Shaw who had arranged to tell her new year resolutions. She described them as plants to be cultivated in a garden and then closed by reading Kipling's "The Glory of the Garden."

Miss Helen Kalas sang a group of songs, "The Icicle," by Wells, "Second Minuet," by Besly, and "Twilight," by Glenn.

Tea and cakes were served, the chairman being assisted by Mrs. W. C. Bohnett, Mrs. J. D. Blaine and Mrs. Worthin Grattan.

In conclusion, Mrs. E. I. Price also gave a list of new year resolutions, which if carried out would produce a contradiction of character.

Fine Play Coming

"Les Miserables" is one of the movies greatest works. It is universally granted to be one of Victor Hugo's, the famous French writer, best books. David George, ex-premier of the British Isles, says that no novel has so shaped his thinking as "Les Miserables." It is a story of a noble man's triumph over circumstances and misfortune. It is also a story in which the moral values of life are truly upheld.

The moving pictures have come to stay and to fill a rightful place in the education of our youth and it is always a source of thankfulness to those interested in the younger generation when these noble classics are presented to us on the screen. This week-end an opportunity to see this drama containing much stirring French history, will be given us at our own theater in Campbell.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BANQUET, JANUARY 20

When the Mob Threatened

By FRANKLIN HICHBORN

During the last fortnight California escaped the blot of mob action, by how small margins only the authorities realize. Not in twenty years have the people been stirred as they have been over the brutal murder of the little Parker girl. On several occasions, however, they have been as near to mob action, notably, twenty years ago, when Francis J. Heney, prosecuting criminals taken in bribery of the San Francisco Board of Supervisors, was shot down in open court.

For two years, the trapped bribe-givers had been blocking the regular course of justice. Jurors had been bribed; witnesses intimidated; hired thugs had threatened law-abiding citizens even invading the Court room; an Editor, whose paper had published the facts of the amazing defense, had been kidnapped; the home of the pivotal witness against the bribe-givers had been dynamited, the witness escaping with his life by margin so small that the force of the explosion stopped the watch he carried. And, as culmination of it all, in open court, during the course of one of the graft trials, the chief prosecuting attorney was shot down.

CRIME STIRS THE STATE

The State awoke for the moment to the character of the Graft defense, and what it meant. San Francisco's effort to bring powerful criminals to account became a State affair. Two years before, the growing opinion throughout the State that the entrenched criminals responsible for the corrupion of the San Francisco municpal officials could be reached only by extra-legal methods, had, at promise of vigorous prosecution subsided. The shooting of Heney revived that opinion. The streets of San Francisco swarmed with armed men, awaiting only leadership to move against newspapers and individuals who were popularly held responsible for blacking of the orderly process of law enforcement.

STAND FOR LAW AND ORDER

In this emergency, the leaders of the Graft Prosecution, headed by Rudolph Spreckels and the then Mayor of San Francisco, Edward Robeson Taylor, by counselling moderation and ofservance of the law, did yeoman service in warding off expression of the impatience at the blocking of law-enforcement in mob action. The Citizens' League of Justice organized to combat lawlessness, issued a call for a meeting of law-abiding citizens to control the threatening situation.

"Francis J. Heney," the League's call read, "has fallen by the hand of an assissin, shot from behind while fighting at his post in the cause of justice for the people of this city. He would be the first man to appeal to the calm reason of the citizens to preserve order and proceed only by the processes of law; to look not for vengeance, but to demand swift justice through the courts. We make the same appeal."

PHELAN COUNSELS LAW-OBSERVANCE

"Why," asked James D. Phelan, "should we take violent steps? Is not San Francisco a great civilized community? Are not our American institutions still intact? They are. And, although in the early days of San Francisco, the Vigilance Committee, an extra-legal tribunal was resorted to for the purpose of correcting such abuses, we must remember that at that time we were a border State, at that time a mining camp. Only such strenuous method would then have succeeded, because judges who are on the bench were elected by ballot-box stuffers, a council was elected in the the same way. Crime was rampart, nobody was punished. Then the men of San Francisco organized a tribunal and gave an orderly trial to very offender whom they apprehended, and as a result this city was cleansed of crime and remained a model community for twenty years.

"But conditions now are different. It is true that within the last year there has been a feeling in this community that the criminal law had been broken down, and that as we could not, under the law, punish the offenders; and that the courts, the highest courts, abetted and aided criminals by the rankest interpretations, technical interpretations of the statutes. They refused to lean on the side of law and order and justice, and they have brought disgrace upon the judiciary of California, the world over."

Paderewski, in talking about his California prune ranch the other day, declared that prune raising is an expensive hobby, but that "the California climate and scenery more than compensate for the expense." as a "hobby" prune raising may be expensive. As an "industry" it need not be so.

The Chamber of Commerce will enjoy its annual banquet at the grammar school cafeteria Friday evening, January 20. The ladies of the Parent-Teachers' Association will serve at 6:30 and it is urged that all diners be on time. A fitting program is being prepared by the committee in charge.

WOMAN'S CLUB PLANS CARD PARTY

On Friday afternoon, February 10, the Country Women's Club will sponsor an informal card party at the Community Hall. There will be a dual arrangement by which tables may be reserved either by a hostess or a "Dutch Treat" group or one may join the "progressives" and move from table to table. A cordial invitation is extended to the ladies of the community or friends elsewhere to join in this promised "good time."

A charge of 50 cents per player will be made and pretty prizes are being arranged.

Further announcement will be made next week.

Attention of members of the Country Woman's Club who were not present at Monday's postponed meeting, is called to the notice that next Monday, January 16, will be the regular meeting with a new line of study to be considered. "Laws for Women," with Mrs. Laura Foster, chairman.

F. H. and Douglas Cutting and T. R. Rathbun went to Yosemite last week for three days enjoying the beauties very much. While there a deer adopted them and ate practically every variety of food. He even stood straight up on his hind legs to take food from their hands held over head.

Friends of Mrs. Ethel Davis and Mis Mary Rodeck, both of whom have been on the sick list for some time will be pleased to know that they are able to be out and we trust will soon be in normal health.

SUPPORT SOLICITED

Don't forget to support the Boy Scouts and Campfire Girls next Saturday at the auditorium.

The newly formed Scout committee has been appointed. Dr. W. I. Merrill is chairman and Mr. W. H. Stray is secretary and treasurer. Mr. L. S. Miller and Rev. W. C. Robins are new members that have been added to the committee. All money and checks will now go into the Boy Scout committee account.

Interesting developments are soon to be reported and Campbell should be proud of its many scout activities in the future.

The coming to Campbell of Mr. Eugene Grattan, brother of Skipper Worthin Grattan, will add a tower of strength to our work, owing to his athletic prowess and his interest in young people's work.

California rice growers generally and the board of directors of the Rice Growers' Association have indorsed state inspection and grading of rice under direction of the Department of Agriculture, according to a departmental statement issued at Sacramento last week. "During the 1927 season, through the inspection service rendered by the State Department of Agriculture," said the statement, "large shipments of rice from California were sent to Japan, enabling California rice growers to dispose of their surplus which otherwise would have had a very depressing effect on the market."

The grape movement exceeded that of 1926, according to a report from the State Agricultural Bureau, and about equalled the record movement of 1925, when 76,000 cars were rolled. Latest data on the 1927 movement showed that over 75,000 cars had been shipped. On one day, September 30, 1811 cars were shipped out of the state and during the week September 28-October 4, 10,047 cars were rolled. The first 55,000 cars brought satisfactory prices to the juice grape grower, but the least said about the remaining shipments the better. The latter part of the Emperor deal was not so bad. Due to the heavier shipments, the total return to the grape industry was placed at $6,000,000 greater than that of 1926.

Direct leased-wire service to Fresno during the grape-shipping season, which is being planned by the State and Federal Departments of Agriculture, will provide growers and shippers of grapes with data on the daily markets in the east. According to advices received from Sacramento, the department expects to have the service in operation for three months during the period of heaviest shipping of grapes. The information is now carried to San Francisco on leased wires and relayed to Fresno for distribution by mail, delaying receipt by growers and shippers until the following day in most instances. Under the new arrangement it will be available on the same day.

A new year of increased prosperity for the farmers of California is seen by G. H. Hecke, state director of agriculture, in a statement issued last week. "During the past few years, the farmers have been laboring under rather difficult financial conditions," said the agricultural chief. "This was particularly the case in 1926. While it is true that the market prices for certain commodities in 1927 were lower than the actual cost of production, the industry as a whole is now in a better condition than at the close of last year. And as we go into the new year, the hope seems well founded that there will be a further improvement during 1928."

The growing of seed potatoes is developing rapidly as an industry in the Porterville district. Guy Lowe, one of the principal growers, reports an unusually large acreage yield. With a nine-acre planting Mr. Lowe says he produced a total of 2,116 sacks, or an average of 224 sacks per acre, the best acre producing 265 sacks. Another field of fourteen acres, yielded 2,407, or 172 sacks per acre. Thus the twenty-three acres produced 4,423 sacks, or an average of 192 sacks.

At the conclusion of another year of experimentation in his effort to produce a perfumed gladiolus, Will Henderson, who spent a number of years at Santa Rosa with Luther Burbank in his work with plant life, expressed the belief that in another year he will have produced the scented flower. Henderson is working on the flowers in Fresno county. Before his death, Burbank declared young Henderson was already able to do things with nature as he did them. Henderson is striving to follow in the footsteps of the plant wizard.

That the Southland should take steps to combat a possible invasion of the corn borer from the east, was the warning issued by Robert A. Condee of the California Junior Republic, upon his return recently from a visit to eastern agricultural centers. Mr. Condee said no sure remedy has yet been found to stop the spread of the corn borer pest. California's celery and cotton crops would be menaced, should the pest invade California, he believes, as the pest does not confine its activities solely to corn.

A radiant gas heater gives clean, quick warmth

To grandmother, warmth meant fuss and trouble. But to mother, clean, healthful heat is instantly available by touching a match to a gas fired radiant heater.

A gas fired radiant heater in your fireplace costs about one cent and a half an hour to operate.

You can heat a room without warming the whole house.

You bring the warmth and cleanliness of Spring sunshine into your living-room. This banishes chills and keeps the family well.

You instantly get invigorating warmth when you come home from shopping or from the theatre.

Come in and ask us about modern radiant gas heaters. They're not expensive and the saving in fuel bills soon pays for the heater.

NEW ROAD MARKER IN CALIFORNIA

Here is the first of the new numbered highway signs that will soon mark main motor routes in California in conformity with the Federal number system of route designation, and a Buick scout car that participated in the erection ceremonies. The sign was erected last week a short distance west of the city limits of Sacramento. It designates route 40 from San Francisco through Sacramento to the Nevada line and is the same number borne by this route across the continent under the Federal number plan.

YOUTH, MISTAKEN FOR RABBIT, IS SHOT

While returning from a hunting trip to Mount Loma Prieta last Sunday, Llewellyn Case, clerk in the Duncan Drug Store, experienced a narrow escape when a hunter shot him through brush. The bullet, a .22 calibre special, struck Case's Waltham gold watch, which he wore in his belt pocket. The watch stopped the bullet, but, as a timepiece, the Waltham is now a good sieve.

Case said the shot made his leg numb preventing him from chasing the hunter who fled like a scared deer leaving no identity. Case had been on an all-night hike to Loma Prieta and was hunting rabbits with his dog and gun about 7 a. m., when the shot came through the brush.

The prohibition proverb, "A still a day keeps liquor away," was executed at better than 100 per cent during 1927, according to figures released last week by E. R. Bohner, prohibition administrator. Instead of holding to one still each day, Northern California enforcement officers raided 377 stills, ranging in value, plus accessories, from $1,000 to $100,000.

The University of California is given high rank in the field of science in the latest compilation of graduates and faculty members of the various universities who have achieved fame in these branches of learning made by the editors of "American Men of Science." It shares second place on the list with the University of Chicago in the number of leading scientists produced and eighth place where both graduate and bachelor degrees are considered.

A movement for a pilgrimage of America's "Gold Star" mothers, as guests of the Federal Government, to the military cemeteries of Europe, where their sons lie buried, was endorsed at Sacramento by Governor C. C. Young last week. In a letter to James W. Foxall of West Chester, Penn., chairman of the "Gold Star" Mothers' Pilgrimage, Governor Young said he knew no better way" of signifying to these mothers that the country has not forgotten their supreme sacrifice.

The net cost of California's state government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1927—the last year of the Richardson budget regime—was $85,247,963.26, an increase of $2,412,-711.93 over the previous year. In his annual statement on governmental costs, State Controller Ray L. Riley last week announced total expenditures of $113,083,473.14 for the last fiscal period and indicated the deductions for transfers, revolving funds and similar items which give the actual net cost of state business.

Recommendations for the retirement of twenty-six veteran California teachers have been approved by the state board of education in session at Sacramento. In the matters of years of service, Janette Ephrain of San Francisco heads the list. She has taught in the San Francisco public schools for fifty-one years, and Mary E. Crowley, also of San Francisco, has forty-nine years to her credit. Other retirements include those of William M. Hyman of Woodland, thirty years, and Ivy Ethel Eldredge of Chico, fifteen years.

Armed with a supply of booklets sixteen inches tall, depicting scenes of San Francisco and bearing a title of "California, the State That Saved Woodrow Wilson in 1916," five San Francisco committeemen left last week for Washington, D. C., in an effort to bring the Democratic convention next summer to San Francisco. The booklets were arranged and published by the San Francisco Convention and Tourist League, and were given the full approval of H. H. McPike, chairman of the State Democratic Central Committee.

The California bar's committee on bar examinations met in San Francisco last week to elect officers and set dates for the next examinations. George H. McNoble of Stockton was elected chairman and A. G. Tasheira of Oakland and John K. Biby of Los Angeles, vice chairmen. Frederick W. Kant was continued as secretary. Dates set for bar examinations were: Preliminary, February 25th, at San Francisco, and February 27th, at Los Angeles; February 28th and 29th, oral examinations at San Francisco and Los Angeles; March 1st and 2nd, written examinations at San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Bulletins instructing all branch offices of the division of motor vehicles that no extension of time will be granted any California motorist who fails to make application for his 1928 license plates before January 31 were issued at Sacramento last week by Frank G. Snook, chief of the division. No person, no matter what his excuse, will be permitted to avoid payment of the 100 per cent penalty if his application is not placed in the mails before midnight of that date, the bulletin said.

Direct ferry service between San Francisco and San Rafael is proposed by the Golden Gate Ferry Company, which filed an application last week with the State Railroad Commission for permission to operate such a line. A. O. Stewart, president of the ferry company, declared the innovation is "in line with our policy of seeking out for motorists the shortest and most direct routes of ingress and egress over San Francisco Bay."

What is believed to be California's second volcano was discovered near Alturas recently by forest rangers on exploration cruises into the interior of the Modoc National Forest in Modoc county. A series of steam vents and boiling pumice flats on the summit of Glass mountain was discovered by J. D. Howard of Klamath Falls, who found the vents from which steam could be seen issuing and from which rose a distinctly sulphuric odor.

The state highway commission will make a complete allocation of funds accruing to the state under the additional 1 cent gasoline tax during the remainder of the biennium, to the primary and secondary roads of California, at its meeting to be held in Sacramento January 12. This is the announcement by Bert B. Meek, state director of public works. The allocation must have the endorsement of the governor before it becomes final. New construction funds from the third cent in the gas tax are expected by state officials to exceed $9,000,000.

Governor C. C. Young, whose commission now is investigating California's tax system, has been invited by J. W. Wheeler, president of the Pacific Northwest Real Estate Association, to sit in on a tax equalization meeting in Portland on January 12 and 13. Wheeler also has asked Alexander R. Heron, director of finance and a member of the tax commission, to attend the session and to address it on California's tax problems. The conference is to be attended by representatives from Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana.

Los Angeles county, which boasts of the greatest bearing acreage of citrus fruits and walnuts in California, should benefit by the higher returns for these crops. Other specialties of the county saw a higher price range, too, and it is expected that when the final returns are computed, the county agricultural production will have reached close to $95,000,000.

Citrus growers of California are showing the greatest interest in the contest to determine the "world's champion orange grower," which will be featured at the Eighteenth National Orange Show, to be held in San Bernardino February 16-26. To date more than fifty entries have been received from many sections of the state, these coming from citrus growers who market their fruit through practically every association in that line of business.

Fluctuations in grain prices were limited during 1927, the feature of the marketing being found in the fact that, despite abundant crops, the farmer received more for his products than in any of the last seven years in the United States. The estimated value of all crops is given in the final Government report at $8,428,626,000, based on the December 1 farm price and including some fifty crops. Compared with the 1926 figure of $7,793,-480,000, last year's valuation shows an increase of $635,146,000. Yield of all wheat in the United States was estimated at 871,691,000 bushels, with the value to the farmer $974,694,000.
